The world is full of many beautiful and wonderful treasures, but it is also filled with problems. Our years at East Side High School have been no exception.

During our four years, there have been problems with which we have had to cope; but, there has always been someone to help us. One person, who is either busily working at his desk or walking around the school helping, we feel should receive recognition for his unselfish acts.

This person is one of the finest men we shall ever have the opportunity to meet. Although we may never see him again, it is to him that we owe tribute for all the times we have had to run to him for help.

It is to our principal, Mr. A. Walter Ackerman that we dedicate the 1965 Torch.

INTRODUCTION

This unique section got its start several years ago; a young, blond, sophomore remarked, "Mrs. Matarazzo, our's will be the 100th graduating class; boy, can we really celebrate." Then a friend, cleaning out an attic, in preparation for moving, came across a box of dusty, glass plate negatives circa 1912 and passed them on to me. "Thought you might be interested!" After a good deal of thought, 1,000 "Help Wanted" flyers, and some 30 pieces of correspondence, this section, devoted to a verbal and pictorial review of the class of 1914 came into being.

nother battered copy was sent by Mr. Carl Olsan (Olshnetsky) who was class president in 1914. The Photo used on page 6 is a photo copy of the 1914 class picture donated to East Side by Mr. John Muller, a graduate of the class of 1914.

The remainder of the photographs used in this section are not authentic pictures of the class of 1914, but are used with the intention of portraying the costumes, homes, furniture, and mode of living of that period. The reader, if curious about the people, places, and events of the class of 1914, is referred to the East Side Library and the early editions of "The Orient" for authentic pictures. Due to technical circumstances we are not able to reproduce them here. The Library also supplied the photo of the student body seated in the auditorium (now the cafeteria) and the 1912 Faculty. Several friends of East Side supplied the remainder of the photographs used on these pages and the division pages throughout this edition of the Torch.

On November 25th, 1908, a resolution by the chairman of the committee on buildings, grounds, and supplies calling for the construction of East Side High School. ¹

In September, 1910, a competitive exam for principal was held and Mr. Thomas F. Kennedy was selected from a field of 50 applicants.¹ Mr. Kennedy then selected a faculty, choosing "from a wide field of applicants."²

The school was organized February 1st, 1911, in the Market Street Annex with all first year pupils. The following April the school moved into the new buildings,³ with an enrollment of 450 students coming from all parts of the city.⁴

The first mention of the story of the class of 1914 comes with an editorial greeting to the new principal; Mr. Kennedy, having transferred to the newly opened South Side High, Mr. Eli Pickwick.⁵ With Mr. Pickwick came a number of changes and the establishment of the precedents for the first graduating class.

Plans for a 4-B dramatic program (to raise funds for a class trip to Washington) and "Senior Recognition Day" were among the new additions.¹ On Wednesday, November 12, came "the greatest event in the school's history"² Senior Recognition Day; the seniors marched in and took seats on the platform, following the reading of letters of congratulations from the city's high school principals, a program of class messages followed. These messages consisted of poems (written for the occasion) gifts (Guilded horseshoe, an account book) and a banner in the class colors (Blue and Gold). After the singing of a song (Written by Mr. Pickwick for the program), Carl Olshnetsky, the class president, addressed the student body. The program concluded with school song; the new seniors boldly wore the class colors for the remainder of the day.³

The story continues with the "Senior Number," the class having chosen to publish the Orient to raise funds for their proposed trip to Washington, followed by the class will and a design for a class, school, ring.²

A later edition of "The Orient" relates, "finally on April 6, at 8:15 the group departed for their Washington trip."³ In Washington meeting Mr. Townsend, congressman representing the district in which East Side is located."⁴ A good time was had by all, and the trip marked one of the greatest highlights of the Senior Year.

On May 1st, the senior class gave the first senior play, "Mr. Bob" in the school auditorium,⁵ which was considered to be very well done and provided the audience with a hearty laugh.⁶

The story of the class of 1914 concludes with graduation, Tuesday, June 23, 1914.⁷

To the playing, by the school pianist of "Marche Militaire" the 36 members of the first graduating class moved into the auditorium to receive their honors.¹ Many went on to higher education, others to work and marriage, still others to their chosen vocational tasks. From the first day to the last singing of the class song, the class of 1914 got East Side started — by comparison, the 453 members of the class of 1965 hopes that it has "Carried On" their aims and objectives, their spirit, and as they were the first to join the expanding ranks of the Alumni, now we, the class of '65 also join that force; a good deal richer for having come to know the first graduating class a little better.

In Conclusion:

"All those things that are now held to be of the greatest antiquity, were at one time new; and what we to-day hold up by example, will rank hereafter as a precedent."

SENIOR GUIDANCE COUNSELORS

Mrs. Matarazzo, whose valuable traits cannot be expressed in one sentence; for one who has tirelessly worked behind the scenes in an endeavor to make this school year a more memorable one; never in the spotlight herself, but always the results of her work a shining light.

We the class of 1965 cannot fully express our thanks for her ever present good judgement. We can only say that her unsparing efforts were well appreciated and will remain among our fondest memories of East Side High.

Acknowledgements

As this edition of the Torch comes to a close, I find myself owing a grateful "Thank You" to the many people who helped to make it possible; therefore, I take this opportunity to make mention of them. First, Miss Shirley, whose extra help and co-operation made a difficult task much easier; Tom, whose advice, friendship, and understanding helped beyond words; Dick Lawall for his unceasing help and advice; the Cambridge staff for their special efforts on my behalf; The class of '65 and Mrs. Matarazzo for the privilege of doing their book; The Torch-bearers for their help, cooperation, and support; Marion Slomkowski for the Dedication; Jose Mojica for the "diamonds"; Mrs. McCarthy for the glass negatives; Mr. Olsan and Mr. Mueller for their help and cooperation on the class of 1914; Miss Davitt & Mrs. Harris for digging up the research materials; Joe M. for the cover emblem; Judy Marsano for her "special delivery" photos; the many friends of East Side who help with the 1914 section; Lenny & Molly for their moral support when the going got rough; and last, but not least, "Edie-B," who understood, helped, and sustained me while this edition was in production. To each and to all a very sincere "Thanks for everything."
